Profile

For 25 years, Joanna has served as both attorney-representative and confidant to colleges and universities. Joanna understands that to effectively attend to and resolve the unique issues that arise on college campuses, a higher education attorney must be able to connect the immediate issues to the history and vision of each institution.

To achieve this, Joanna takes the time to fully partner with her clients, building relationships with key administrators and board members. With these resources at hand, Joanna is able to efficiently and appropriately counsel her clients in times of calm or crisis across a range of issues, including:

- Academic and college affairs
- Student and residential life
- Formation of entities and foundations
- Provision of services to students and staff with disabilities
- Immigration
- Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)
- Records and transcript issues
- Faculty contracts, tenure, termination and promotion
- E-learning
- Internal grievance and disciplinary procedures
- Discrimination and Title IX issues
- School policy development and implementation
- Regulatory matters
- Financial aid
- Accreditation and recertification

Bringing the World to College Campuses

Throughout her career, Joanna has assisted colleges and universities in their quest to impart the highest levels of academic excellence to their students. - Nonimmigrant visa petitions (H-1B, O-1, etc.),
- Immigrant visa petitions (PERM, outstanding professor or researcher, persons of extraordinary ability and special recruitment permanent residence petitions), and
- Student issues (F-1, J-1, OPT, SEVIS, etc.).
